LEADING EDGE
One-on-One Leadership Coaching

Leading Edge (One-on-One Leadership Coaching) is a leadership development experience for undergraduate and graduate students at Georgia Tech where participants work with a leadership coach to intentionally explore and grow their leadership skills. Leadership happens everywhere and one does not have to be in a leadership role to be a leader. Many successful organizations offer leadership coaching to their high-potential employees. It is a top tool for leadership development because it focuses leaders (like you), allowing them to achieve improved results while being more efficient in their work. Georgia Tech has invested in adapting the real-world practices and approaches of executive leadership coaching to meet the needs of Georgia Tech students while also preparing them for the leadership roles they will have at Tech and beyond.

Through this program, you will gain a better understanding of your strengths and weaknesses and learn a methodology for how to intentionally and iteratively grow and develop your leadership skills. The coaching process allows you to significantly build on twenty-two leadership skills that are most common among effective leaders.

The Coaching Process
Once selected to participate in Leading Edge, you will be matched with a personal leadership coach. Over the course of the semester, you will meet with your coach for 5 to 6 one-hour sessions. Together, you will identify leadership opportunities and design experiments and action plans for how to improve your mastery of specific leadership competencies.
